The Robert M. Berne Cardiovascular Research Center Presents

Cynthia St. Hilaire, PhD

Affiliation: Assistant Professor Of Medicine, University of Pittsburgh, Department of Medicine, Division of Cardiology, Pittsburgh Heart, Lung, and Blood Vascular Medicine Institute, Pittsburgh PA

CD73-deficiency and novel mechanisms regulating peripheral vascular homeostasis

This paper describes the mechanism by which CD73-deficiency leads to non-atherosclerotic medial calcification in the rare genetic disease, ACDC. Importantly, this study also provides evidence that these same mechanism may be operative in more common forms of Peripheral Artery Disease (PAD).

Thursday November 5th, 2020
11:00 AM-12:00 PM
Zoom

Hosted by: Brant Isakson, PhD

Contact:
Mary Sheffer
Program Administrator
CVRC, UVA
MR5 1010
PO Box 801394
Charlottesville, VA 22908
434-243-9943
Mt3kx@virginia.edu